FROM THE BIG GUY

Hey, who is that guy? Oh yeah, it's supposed to be me. I guess nobody thinks they look like their picture. In this issue of Totally Kids, we introduce a new feature (you'll find it next to another one of my pictures) where you'll read about all the latest doings inside KidVid Biz reported by FOX KIDS Prez (and my boss), Margaret Loesch. That's just one of the many surprises coming your way in this Summer Fun issue of Totally Kids.

SPIDER-MAN® and his SPECTACULAR WORLD OF SUPER HEROES™

Since comic books first hit the shelves in the 1930s, Super Heroes have been out there battling it out with evil. It's a good thing for us they usually win! Even those of you out there who collect comic books, or read them in your paper, may not know some of the weird facts we dug up...check this out!

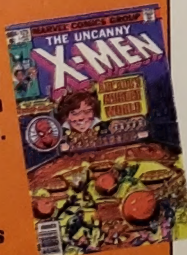

ACTION-PACKED FACTS

- As a result of an experiment to remove his spider-powers, Spider-Man was temporarily left with six arms.

- The Fantastic Four once defeated the world-devouring Galactus by letting him eat the planet Poppup, whose unique make-up gave Galactus a near-fatal case of cosmic indigestion.

- When the evil Arcade first attacked the X-Men, he nearly defeated them by trapping them in a giant pinball machine.

- Of the many would-be heroes who have tried to join the Fantastic Four, perhaps the oddest was postman Willie Lumpkin, whose sole power allows him to, in his own words, "wiggle his ears real good."

If i WERE a SUPER HERO!

I'd do anything to climb walls and shoot webs like Spidey. But let's face it, until 30-foot-tall beings from another dimension threaten to smother my whole neighborhood with a foot-thick layer of paralyzing goop, there are lots of super powers I'd rather have right now!

MALL-O-MOVIE-A

Gives me four times the mall-cruising power of Your average kid and acts as a FREE pass into the hottest movies

MY SUPER POWERS WOULD BE...

PHONE-OMENON

Clears the line every time I want to use the phone—even when my big sister's home.

SNOOZE CONTROL

Stops time for ten minutes on school-day mornings so I can sleep longer.

JORDANATION

Lets me leap twice my height, twist in mid air, and slam-dunk a basketball on command.

CD-SEE

Lets me see into the future to know which CDs are going to be hot before anyone else!

*There is a club whose only membership requirement is that you have the name Jim Smith.

REAL Life SUPER Heroes!

So you say you never see spandexed men and caped women flying around or sticking to walls or leaping over your rooftops. Well, we tracked down a few kids outside the comic book pages who really deserve the title Super Hero...

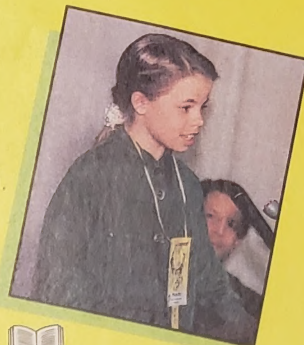

Hayes Stuppy, age 12

You probably heard about the big earthquake in Northridge, California. Hayes was home with his dad when the earthquake hit. Hayes escaped from their fallen house to safety. But he realized that his dad was still inside the house...so he went back in. Hayes found his dad passed out from blood loss, and stopped the bleeding despite the darkness and aftershocks. Then he helped his father to safety. Both he and his dad are fine, and we're trying to design Hayes a Super Hero costume.

Melissa Poe, age 9

Melissa started her Super Hero career when she wrote a letter to President Bush, and didn't get an answer. She had the letter printed on over 250 billboards, getting major attention. She then started Kids For a Clean Environment. Kids FACE now has over 200,000 members all over the world, including China, Greece, and Australia. Melissa now flies around the world trying to save the earth—just like a real Super Hero!

How To Draw Comics...

Spider-Man is a Super Hero born out of the minds of Stan Lee and Steve Ditko. Here are a few step-by-step guidelines to draw the webbed wonder yourself, just like the pros do. Just remember, most of these guys practice this for years before they're good enough for the comic books. But, who knows, maybe someday you'll be writing the "how to draw" book!

STEP 1

Most anyone can draw a stick figure. Draw lots of them. Keep drawing stick figures in different positions until you can do it in your sleep.

CHECK IT OUT!

STEP 2

Find a good pose and start "fleshing it out" by adding cylinders and ovals around your stick figure. Draw what's going to be covered up later; that way you know it's all in the right place.

STEP 3

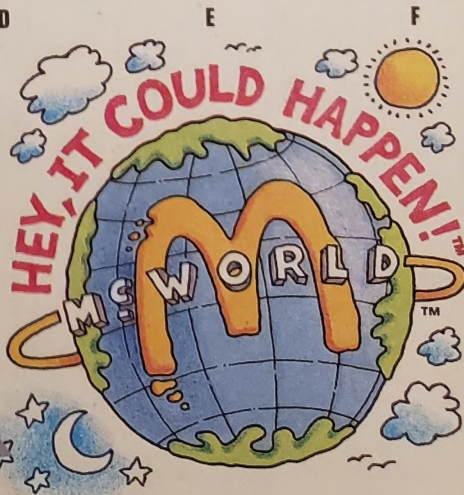

When you're done fleshing it out, erase the construction lines and the hidden parts of the body. Add costume detail and—zowie—you're drawing like the pros. Keep drawing and don't give up!

HOW TO DRAW COMICS THE MARVEL WAY by Stan Lee and John Buscema

SUPER HERO SWAP

Can you help out our forgetful cartoonist and put these comic-strip panels in the right order to tell the story? Answer on page 35.

BARGAIN HUNT

WITH KIMBERLY AND AISHA!

So, you want to look cool and you have practically NO money for new rags? Then get old ones! Kimberly and Aisha, super-shoppers, know all about getting the most for their money. We gave each of them $20 and told them to find the most drop-dead-cool-funky-fresh-out-of-this-world-morphinominal ensembles (that's French) they could. Boy, did they! With just a little cash, and a little more imagination, you can be a Power Shopper, too!

THRIFT STORES: Probably the best place to find totally cheap clothes is thrift stores. As someone once said, "One person's trash is another person's treasure." Both Kimberly and Aisha found some terrific deals in this shop.

GROSS-OUT: Someone else said, "You have to kiss a lot of toads to find a prince." Don't be afraid to go through racks and racks of clothes that you wouldn't be caught dead in; that's the only way you're going to find the perfect outfit. They can't all be winners.

DISCOUNT STORES: Sometimes a great deal is right under your nose. Look for sales, and keep your mind open....(Would that scarf make a good belt? Could I hem that dress to make a mini-skirt?) Look for the clearance rack; it's usually in the back of the store.

AND THE WINNER IS...

The girls got a lot for their money. Check out these outfits, and see why it pays to be a smart shopper.

DUMB & INANE DISCOVERIES & INVENTIONS

Since the dawn of time, clever inventors have been trying to come up with new things to make our lives easier, safer, and more efficient. But like Bill and Scooter, deep down inside every inventor is some really dumb invention just waiting to come out. Bet they never told you about these inventions in school! Who would want to admit that they came up with this stuff?

PARAKEET DIAPERS

Invented by Bertha A. Dlugi of Milwaukee and patented in 1959. A triangle of cloth held in place by a collar around the bird's neck.

TAPEWORM TRAP

Patented November 14, 1854, a baited trap that had to be lowered into a person's stomach with a string.

GOGGLES FOR CHICKENS

Patented June 16, 1903. Eye protectors to prevent chickens from getting their eyes pecked out.

LIP SHAPER

Patented June 10, 1924. A clamp used to reshape a woman's lips into the popular "cupid's-bow" of the 1920s. Ouch!

ICE SHIPS

In World War II, the British government tried building actual working troop ships out of carved ice.

CHEWING GUM LOCKET

Patented January 1, 1889. A locket hung around your neck to hold used gum. Better than a bedpost!

CANNED FOOD

Invented in 1812, but for 48 years cooks had to use knives, hatchets, and even guns to open them, because the can opener wasn't invented till 1860!

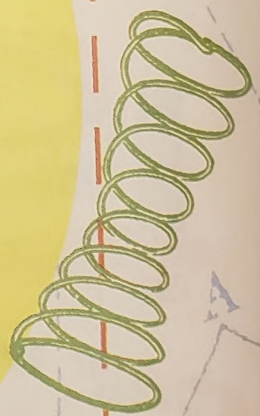

Even some of the smartest inventors sometimes seem to be wearing their thinking caps too tight!

Take Leonardo da Vinci, the fifteenth-century Italian painter. He created working models of helicopters, submarines, and contact lenses hundreds of years before they existed. But he also invented a paint to work on dry walls (instead of wet plaster like they usually used) that caused his famous painting The Last Supper to crumble and fade before he was finished!

What about Thomas Edison, the inventor of the light bulb? Total genius, right? That is, until you find out he lost a fortune investing in prefabricated cement houses—complete with cement furniture. You don't have to be a genius to come up with a really stupid new idea, but it couldn't hurt!

*There are twice as many chickens as there are people in the U.S.

PLAY WITH YOUR FOOD!

For added fun,
foods we used in our Taz sculpture.
Answer page 35.

Okay, here's the disclaimer up front—GET YOUR PARENTS' PERMISSION!!!

We don't want you wasting food when there are starving people all over the world, but we DO want you to play with it before you eat it.
Here's the deal:

- 1 Decide which FOX KIDS character is your favorite.
- 2 Picture a sculpture of him or her in your mind.
- 3 Round up a bunch of food (beans, Spam, celery, cottage cheese, licorice, or whatever else you have laying around).
- 4 Use ONLY food to create your sculpture masterpiece. (If you use a toothpick or two, we won't hold it against you.)
- 5 Have Mom or Dad take a clear photo of you with your sculpture. (Make sure it's in focus.)
- 6 Send the photo,* along with your name, address, phone number, and FOX KIDS station, to:
FOOD FUN, P.O. Box 7771,
Burbank, CA 91505
- 7 Eat it (the sculpture, not the photo).

If you get them to us by July 4th, we'll publish the photos we like best. We know what you're asking... "What do I win?" You get your picture in the coolest magazine on the planet. Isn't that enough?! Besides, it's not every day you get asked to play with your food!

Have a feast

FOX KIDS Swimsuit

Even cartoon characters need a vacation! We asked some of your favorite FOX KIDS stars to model this year's hottest summer suits while they take a break from their busy schedules.

No beach blank? No problem for Peter Parker, he just makes his own. His date, Mary Jane Watson, is the latest swim fashion look, like a star in the latest swim fashion.

Uncle Ted gives Buddy some good pointers on safe surfing while sporting his romantic trunks.

Fashion! Spectacular!

For extra fun in the sun, there are 25 objects buried in the sand behind the photos, with only part of each object sticking out of the sand. Can you uncover all the buried treasures? Answers on page 35.

STAYING BIKINI TOP BOTTOM!

Those glibnet globetrotters, Zack and Ivy, are no strangers to exotic places. Let's hope they don't have so much fun they miss a clue right under their noses.

You can't keep a good fax down. Here seen improvising a surfboard, Taz wore leaf-pattern trunks until he was shredded by that last wave!

ENVOGUE

ENVOGUE! You've heard them on the FOX KIDS Countdown, and you know they're the hottest group around. But did you know that they were inspired by the likes of Natalie Cole, Chaka Kahn, and Ella Fitzgerald? This all-girl group, Cindy, Maxine, Terry, and Dawn, were brought together by Denzil Foster and Thomas McElroy five years ago. They're set to release their next album later this year, and Totally Kids caught up with them in the studio....

TK: So, does En Vogue have a favorite En Vogue song?
EV: It would have to be "Free Your Mind."

TK: What were your favorite cartoons as kids?
Terry: We liked Speed Racer, Bugs Bunny, and Felix the Cat.

TK: When you're on tour, what do you do for fun?
EV: (All four, enthusiastically) Go shopping!

TK: What's the best and worst thing about going on tour?
EV: The best thing is connecting with all kinds of people in different parts of the world. The hardest part is missing home and dealing with the hectic schedule.

TK: What's your favorite junk food?

Cindy: Chips and stuff.

Maxine: Jolly Ranchers™.

Terry: Tea cakes.

Dawn: Anything chocolate!

TK: Do you have any suggestions for kids who want to get into the music biz?

EV: Finish school first. Study courses in music, perform as much as you can locally, and believe in your hopes and dreams.

To hear the latest En Vogue songs and other hot tunes, listen to the FOX KIDS Countdown Sunday mornings on your favorite radio station.

WEEK! HOW TO SURVIVE THOSE LONG, HOT SUMMER ROAD TRIPS!

MULTITUDINOUS STATES

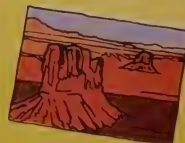

How many license plates of the 50 different states can you spot? Keep a list in the car—it could take all summer! Which states have more than one kind? (Koombyeya! How do you drive from Hawaii?!)

CEREBRAL SENTENCES

Make the most interesting or funny sentence you can using the letters from the license plate on a nearby car. (Example: License plate "123 SNB" could be "Sharkey Needs Breathmints!")

SLUG-BUG SLEUTH

Keep on the lookout for "Bugs" (aka: Volkswagen Beetles). If you see one, be the first to say "Slug Bug!" Keep track of who sees the most. Bugs on the windshield don't count!

MOUTH CLAMP CHAMP

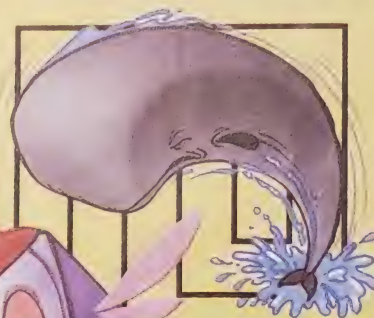

Who can keep from making any sounds for the longest amount of time? (Parents really love this one!)

Bobby's Family Tree!

GRANDPA AL GENERIC

Bobby's dad's dad. He's really nice but he forgets stuff. Bobby likes it when he forgets bedtime.

GRANDMA EVY GENERIC

Bobby's dad's mom. She knows the right way to do everything. And she doesn't mind telling you so.

GRANDPA SVEN KNUDSENBURGERSVEN

Bobby's mom's dad—his kindly grandpa of Swedish heritage. He lets Bobby jump on the bed "don't you know."

GRANDMA ELSA KNUDSENBURGERSVEN

is the kindly grandma from Swedish heritage. She always gives Bobby cookies "don't you know."

AUNTIE MAME

is Bobby's dad's brother's well-dressed wife. She doesn't like kids in her living room.

UNCLE SIDNEY

Bobby's dad's highbrow older brother. He has the same dark curly hair as Dad.

HOWIE GENERIC

Bobby's dad.

MARTHA GENERIC

Bobby's mom.

AUNTIE RUTH

is Bobby's mom's older sister. Bobby likes Aunt Ruth, but it's really hard to breathe when she hugs him.

UNCLE TED

is Bobby's mom's older brother. He's Bobby's favorite uncle. Bobby has to watch his head 'cause Uncle Ted is the nuggie king.

BRIANNA

is Bobby's girl cousin. She doesn't like it when Bobby laughs at her braces.

JEFFREY

is Bobby's boy cousin. He's kind of like Derek except he wears a suit.

KELLY

Bobby's sister.

DEREK

Bobby's brother.

BOBBY

JAKE & AL

Bobby's younger twin brothers.

Did you know that your great-uncle was a train robber, or that you're related to President Lincoln? Well, maybe not, but you'd be surprised what you can learn if you just dig deep. Start by asking your folks about their parents or grandparents. Keep a notebook. Find out birth dates, marriages, brothers, sisters, and whatever else might be interesting. Then the local library or genealogy society can help you do research. Map the history on a chart or do a tree like Bobby's. This makes a great present for your parents. (Hint: Mother's Day and Father's Day are coming up.) So, what are you waiting for? Find out if your great-great-great-granduncle was king of France or the guy who invented shoelaces!

BOBBY'S NUGGIE

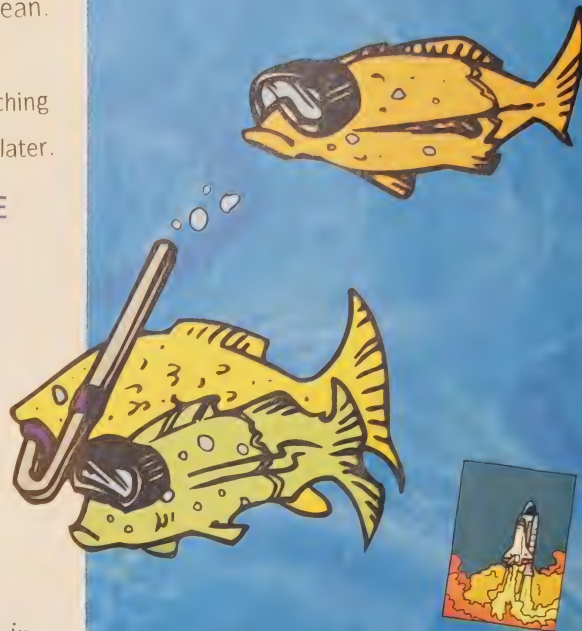

And Now a Message... WATER TIPS

TOTALLY FOR KIDS

Summer means fun, and often it means taking a cool dunk in a pool, lake, or ocean. Don't let those lazy swirls fool you, water can be dangerous, even in small doses. But you're a big kid, right? You already know all about water safety. So howzabout teaching it to your little bro or sis? Setting a good example now, can mean a world of difference later.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS FOR MAKING YOUR SUMMER A SAFE ONE

- 1 Swim with a buddy, never alone.
- 2 Never run around a pool.
- 3 Learn how to swim.
- 4 Keep emergency numbers near the pool.
- 5 Keep rescue equipment near the pool.
- 6 Never dive or jump into shallow water.
- 7 Empty buckets or bowls of water when not in use so no one falls in.
- 8 Do not push or jump on others in the water.

MONEY

MYSTERY

Okay, supersleuths, take out a dollar bill. If you don't have one, borrow one. Just remember to give it back—you aren't Carmen Sandiego. Try to find a spider hidden on the dollar bill. Look near the "1" in the upper right-hand corner. It's nestled nearby. People used to look up to hard-working creatures like the spiders. Now look at the dollar bill again. See all those patterns around the edge? They're spider webs. Creepy, huh?

Turn the dollar over and find the eagle. If the bill was printed when the United States was at peace, the eagle faces the olive branch in its left claw. But if it was printed during a war, the eagle faces the arrows on the other side.

Did you know the dollar bill was unlucky? There are groups of 13 all over it, like the eagle holding thirteen arrows. Can you find other 13s?

Now for some "fun with money." Fold the bill back with the crease just above George's eyes. Now fold it forward down to the edge of his chin. He makes a good mushroom, don't you think? What other weird stuff can you find on money? What would you put on YOUR dollar bill?

Where is Carmen Sandiego? It's no mystery... every Saturday morning on FOX KIDS!

CLIP 'EM, TRADE 'EM, SAVE 'EM.

Don't let a week pass by without the heart-stopping action of Spider-Man. You can see him battling with these buffoons and various other villains every Saturday morning on FOX KIDS. Spider-Man's a blast to hang out with. See you there!

Your local comic book store has more Spider-Man cards from FLEER.

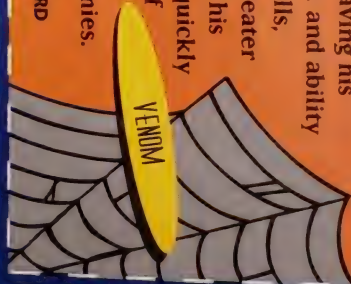

44 FOX KIDS CARD

Hired by J. Jonah Jameson to discover how Peter Parker got such amazing photos of Spider-Man, Mac Gargan was transformed into the sinister Scorpion as a result of a genetic experiment and given the powers of a spider's natural enemy—the scorpion. Hunting down Spider-Man using his cybernetically-controlled, acid-spewing tail as a weapon, the Scorpion became a menace to mankind, even turning on J.J.—leaving Spider-Man to save the day once more.

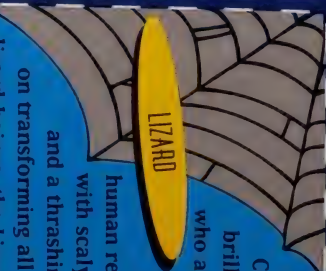

42 FOX KIDS CARD

Sprung by Spider-Man, the alien symbiote that had served as the wall-crawler's new costume, found a new host in Eddie Brock. Driven by Brock's hatred for Spider-Man, the two beings joined, becoming the creature called Venom. Spider-Man found out the hard way that, in addition to having his speed, agility, and ability to stick to walls, Venom had greater strength than his own. Venom quickly became one of Spider-Man's deadliest enemies.

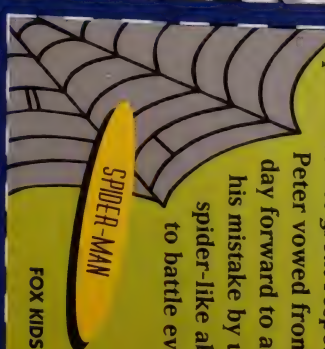

43 FOX KIDS CARD

Dr. Curt Connors was a brilliant biologist who accidentally transformed himself into a human reptile, complete with scaly green skin and a thrashing tail. Intent on transforming all mankind into lizard-beings, the Lizard, as he was now called, battled Spider-Man relentlessly using his super-strength, speed, reflexes, and agility. Spider-Man was thus forced to defeat this wily foe without harming him, so that he could be cured, and Curt Connors could live a normal life.

41 FOX KIDS CARD

When Peter Parker was bitten by a radioactive spider, he gained the proportionate strength, speed, and agility of the arachnid. But his refusal to use his newfound abilities to help others resulted in the death of his beloved Uncle Ben. Realizing that with great power comes great responsibility, Peter vowed from that day forward to atone for his mistake by using his spider-like abilities to battle evil!

CELESTIAL SIGHTINGS

"Look! Up in the sky! It's a bird! It's a toaster! It's...Batman!"

Actually, it's just a bunch of stars. But for centuries, people have given names and even personalities to the constellations, or groups of stars. Those twinkling little stars can play a BIG role in our life on earth. Some people claim the stars tell them the future. For others, they tell them the way home! Do you get lost looking up at night? Get your head out of the clouds! The countless stars are arranged in a more-or-less unchanging pattern. (Those that move have a special name: scientists call them "airplanes.")

Use this Earth Crew guide to find your way around the summer sky. First, stargazing is best away from the bright lights of the city. (That's why countrysides and hilltops were made.)

CAN'T FIND HIM IN THE SKY? WATCH THE ADVENTURES OF BATMAN AND ROBIN SATURDAY MORNINGS ON FOX KIDS!

One of the easiest constellations to spot is Ursa Major—because of the "Big Dipper." Once you find the Big Dipper, follow the two stars that form the outer side of the "pan" in a straight line, until you come to a very bright (and important) star: Polaris, or the "North Star." It's so important, that all the other stars spin around it. Polaris is also the tail end of Ursa Minor, or—you guessed it—the "Little Dipper." Now follow the handle back south, you'll find... Batman (former generations called him "Hercules")!

Okay, so the Mayans or the Greeks may not have seen exactly what we see up there. Can you turn any of these other constellations into your favorite FOX KIDS character? You'd be surprised what you see after an hour of staring at tiny points of light!

FOX KIDS & McWORLD Space to Speak Out SURVEY RESULTS

The FOX KIDS Club has 5.5 million members worldwide, and Theresa Kennedy knows each one of you personally. Well, not quite, but she is in charge of the club and especially this magazine. She's got red hair, blue eyes, and an "inny," and we call her "The Put-It-Together Gal."

TK: So, tell us the truth, your kids do your work for you, don't they?

TK: Yep, they're just like elves, answering mail, picking out artwork, taking messages...

TK: What makes Totally Kids different from, say, National Geographic?

TK: We're not so different; after all, Totally Kids features all kinds of animals and people who wear many different costumes. We just have fewer pages and more games!

TK: Is it just a coincidence that your initials are the same as the magazine's?

TK: No, that's how I got the job. Just kidding, but it's kind of cool.

TK: What do you like best about directing the KIDS Club?

TK: Reading mail from members. It's great to find out that someone enjoyed the magazine, or used what they learned from Totally Kids in school. I also like to hear what we could be doing better.

TK: If you were a Power Ranger, what color would you be?

TK: Orange, to go with my hair.

TK: If you won a million dollars, what's the first thing you'd buy?

TK: Lunch.

TK: If you won five dollars, what's the first thing you'd buy?

TK: Lunch.
